TWO COTTON BLOOMS

The first cotton bloom of this season was brought to the Journal office last Saturday afternoon by Mr. C. M. Bryson, of R. F. D. 5. The bloom was fully developed, having turned a deep red color around the edges. Mr. Bryson states that the blossom came from a field containing about eight acres. This field is farther advanced than the greater portion of his cotton, but the recent rains have brought up the remaining thirty acres very nicely.

The second cotton blossom was brought to the Journal office by Lewis Fields, of R. F. D. 5. This bloom was not quite as fully developed as was Mr. Bryson's as the former's opened June 18, while the latter opened June 19. Mr. Fields has about sixty-five acres of very fine cotton, all being about eight inches in height. The rains of last week greatly helped all the crops and the outlook is at this time very promising.

COVINGTON-SMITH

The following article was taken from Wednesday morning's Greenville News. The bride was a teacher in the Belton High School this year and while here she made many friends among the pupils of her room. Mrs. Smith was an able teacher and it was with regret that the trustees gave her up. She is a sister of Mrs. J. E. Harper, of Belton, and is very popular in our city. The account of her wedding follows:

A beautiful wedding was solemnized at the Pendleton Street Baptist church yesterday evening when Miss Alice Covington became the bride of Mr. Walter Monroe Smith.

The church was simply decorated, with masses of ferns and palms in the chancel and choir. Mrs. Robert Pifer, of Spartanburg, presided at the organ. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bridal party entered in the following order: The ushers, Messrs. Charles Hatterberg, Hayne Smith, Chas. Smith and Montrose Hill, came in the right and left aisles respectively. Following them the bridesmaids, Misses May Blackwelder, Helen Woodside, Elizabeth Covington, Carrie Smith, and Sue Covington entered singly, coming down the center aisle. Then the dame of honor, Mrs. J. E. Harper, and the little flower girl, Harriet Vass, and page, Leland Vass III, strewing lilies of the valley down the aisle, preceded the bride, who entered on the arm of her father. The groom with his brother, Dr. Wm. Smith, awaited her at the altar, where the impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Vass, the bride's pastor. The bride, who is very pretty, wore a most becoming gown of white crepe de chine made with a long train, and draperies of lace. Her veil was draped cap fashion with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies.

The bridesmaids were gowned in white crepe de chine en traine. The brides were draped with lace and pearl trimmings. They carried bouquets of pink carnations. Little Miss Harriet Vass wore a charming wit hover dress of pink gauze and carried pink lily-of-the-valley. The maid of honor wore pink dainty gown of lingerie with plunk ash and carried a basket of ferns and valley lilies. Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Rev. F. E. Covington and has a large circle of friends in Greenville. Mr. Smith is a popular young business man, being connected with the Camperdown mills.

After a trip to Washington and Virginia Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in Greenville.

Cotton Blossom.

Josh Pruitt, one of our live farmers who resides on Belton route 1, was in to see us Tuesday and brought us two cotton blossoms taken from his field.

Mr. Pruitt is one of our large farmers. He is running ten plows and has 175 acres of cotton and 25 acres of corn. His corn crop is fine and 50 acres of the cotton is number one, the balance of the crop is young, caused by the dry weather. Mr. Pruitt says he will make a very good crop this year. He expects to have at least 100 bales of cotton for sale this fall.

$75,000 to Connie Maxwell Orphanage.

Connie Maxwell, the Baptist institution of South Carolina, has received a bequest of seventy-five thousand dollars from the estate of Mr. J. C. Easton, of Eastover. Mr. Easton, who died recently at his home near Eastover.

Fifteen thousand dollars of the amount will be used to erect new cottage at the orphanage and two thousand will be used to furnish the building. The remainder of the legacy is real estate which will be disposed of later.

Other notable gifts to the institution were made by Mr. Terrel Smith of Williston, Mr. Alderman, of Alcolu, Dr. J. C. Maxwell, of Greenwood, Mr. W. L. Durst, of Greenwood, Mr. J. K. Durst, of Greenwood. Dr. Maxwell gave the land on which the orphanage is located and also left in his will the money with which to erect Maxwell school building. Mr. Smith left the Martha Smith home for girls, the Terrel Smith home for boys, and the Terrel Smith industrial building. Mr. W. L. Durst erected the Durst home for girls in memory of his wife. Mr. J. K. Durst gave to the institution the office building. Mr. Alderman provided the money with which to erect the Alderman sanitarium. The people of the state will be glad to learn of the recent gift to the institution as it is doing a great work for the homeless children. The new home comes in a time of need as the officials have been put to a great inconvenience by the numerous calls for help from the fatherless and motherless of the state.

BELTON DEFEATS RIVERSIDE

Belton Mills baseball team defeated Riverside team last Saturday afternoon to the tune of 9 to 0. The game was a one-sided game all the way through. #### Baseball in Belton July Fourth.

Gluck Mills and Belton Mills will play a game of ball in Belton the Fourth of July. Neither of these teams has lost a game since the league was organized and this game on the Fourth will be one of great interest. Turn out, boys, and give the boys a good crowd. You will be repaid for the small admission fee if you are a lover of good, genuine baseball.

Miss Janie Greer Haynie is entertaining the following guests at a delightful house party this week at her beautiful home on Brown avenue: Miss Edith Todd, of Due West, Miss Annie Bristow, of Greenville, Masters Eugene Barton, of Anderson, and John Todd, of Due West. Little Miss Anna Dean West and Master Jack West sent Tuesday with this jolly party.

The stores and banks of Belton will be closed Monday, July 6, instead of Saturday, July 4th. Those who do business in Belton will please bear this in mind. The Fourth of July falling on Saturday is the reason for the change of the observance of this holiday. It would work a hardship on those who are so accustomed to coming to Belton on Saturdays. The merchants and business men of our town are always anxious to accommodate their friends and please bear in mind that the holiday will be Monday, July 6, instead of Saturday, July 4. The drug stores will not close.

C. H. Strickland, superintendent of the Belton Cotton Mills, was among those who attended the meeting of the Southern Textile Association in Charleston which was in session from June 12 to 13. Mr. Strickland was accompanied by P. L. Mitchell, who is also with the Belton Mills. Over three hundred owners and superintendents of mills were present as well as a large number of traveling men. This meeting was held at the Isle of Palms and this place has been selected for the summer meetings in the future. Mr. Strickland speaks in the highest terms of the City by the Sea.

The members of the building committee are as follows: J. T. Cothran, chairman; J. E. King, H. E. Cooley, E. S. Cothran, H. F. Woodson, J. A. Holliday, J. C. Cothran, Pinckney Cooley and D. P. Davenport. These gentlemen are very much interested in the advancement of education and we feel safe in saying that they will push the school building and when time for the school to open, the building will be ready. This building will cost $3,000 and will be a monument to those who have worked so faithfully to better conditions of education. Cor.

The West Duncan graded school grounds was surveyed last week by J. M. Cox. The building will begin about the 15th of August and will be ready for the fall session and we hope to be able to fill this handsome building with boys and girls. The building will consist of four rooms down stairs for recitation purposes—each room being 25x25 feet. The auditorium will be 60x70 feet. This school will be patronized by the children formerly of Beach Springs. This consolidation was made this spring and we feel that it will prove satisfactory to every one concerned. This consolidation gave us a chance to get state aid, which is $700—$600 for building purposes and $100 for seating purposes. We also get $200 from the county of Greenville, making a total of $900.

REV. W. T. TATE'S FAREWELL

Rev. W. T. Tate, who is loved by every citizen of Belton, will preach twice next Sunday, morning and evening. The evening service will wind up his pastorate here. For 16 years Brother Tate has upheld the cause of Christ in Belton, coming here when the church was weak from a membership standpoint and while the town of Belton has grown to be quite a bustling little city, the churches have advanced wonderfully and most especially the First Baptist church. It is with regret that the town parts with Mr. Tate and his family and the good wishes of ev-
